The first step towards building a positive agenda should be the fulfillment of the terms of the August 12, 2008 Agreement and granting the right to safe return to refugees and IDPs to their places of residence.

As for NATO, cooperation between Georgia and the Alliance seeks to establish security in the region and promotes stability on the southern borders of the Russian Federation as well," reads President Margvelashvili's statement (IPN.GE, July 20, 2018).

4. If Moscow is reluctant to regain relations with Georgia, nobody is against it - Zurab Abashidze

"We advise the Russian side to analyze the situation instead of blaming others and take the steps waited by the international community and Georgia for a long time. In particular, Russia should fulfill its obligations under the 2008 ceasefire agreement, withdraw troops from the Georgian regions and take steps to de-occupy our territories. By protecting the principles of international law and respecting Georgia's sovereignty and territorial integrity, Russia will show the international community a willingness to fully settle the relations with Georgia," said Zurab Abashidze (IPN.GE, July 20, 2018).

5. Foreign Minister: We will continue to strengthen Georgia

"Our Euro-Atlantic course is backed by the reforms implemented by the Georgian authorities in the field of defense and security by taking steps in bilateral formats with NATO partners. It is important to create the most effective format inside the team. The team has a resource for this. It is wrong to expel a member from the team without consideration of the issue. I wish success to my colleague and/or colleagues who will continue to defend this person, as everyone has the right to be defended despite the gravity of the crime.
